Announcement: AABP Develops VCPR Guidelines

The American Association of Bovine Practitioners (AABP) has developed guidelines for its members on the Veterinary-Client-Patient Relationship (VCPR). The VCPR is an important factor between veterinarians and their beef and dairy clients in regard to pharmaceutical use, protocols, residue avoidance and more.

Find the VCPR Guidelines at

http://aabp.org/resources/AABP_Guidelines/VCPRGuidelineFinal11-2013.pdf

AABP's newly revised Practical Euthanasia of Cattle is also available at http://aabp.org/resources/AABP_Guidelines/Practical Euthanasia of Cattle-September 2013.pdf.

Other AABP task forces are also working on guidelines for veterinarians to help them make decisions with their beef and dairy clients in the areas of proper drug use, castration and dehorning, lameness and more. Those guidelines will be available on the AABP website at www.aabp.org as they become available.

International Congresses

WBC2014 REPORT

The WBC2014 Congress will be held from 27th – 31st July next year and preparations are really on the move, and I hope that you will visit the website as soon as possible to keep up to date with what we have been progressing for you to participate and enjoy next year in Cairns.

The scientific committee have collated all of the proposals and have put together keynote speakers from all parts of the world. We are already receiving abstracts in support of the streams of the congress and complimenting the keynote speakers. We would encourage you to consider submitting your abstract and help showcase the Buiatric achievements from your country and association.

The social committee has a diverse range of activities for you. They have already decided on the overseas terminal in Cairns in which to hold the Gala dinner and have an exciting destination for both the local and overseas vets for the “cultural” evening. The committee is working with the Tablelands Veterinary Services to put together the pre and post conference workshops to be held in the Atherton Tablelands just behind Cairns. The committee has also been busy with the pre and post conference agricultural visits and tours, while the accompanying persons program can now be seen on the website.

Our PCO, Kerry Wise from DCI has block booked accommodation in Cairns so that you stay where it best suits you. You will be pleased to know that all of it is within walking distance of the convention centre. It is difficult to beat walking a few minutes in the warm balmy atmosphere of a tropical paradise to an international congress filled with the latest veterinary information. Kerry has worked very hard to get the best rates and has been in constant contact with the Cairns Convention Centre to make this the very best congress that Cairns has ever seen.

Anne Cover is the Australian Cattle Veterinary (ACV) executive officer and has been busy in all areas of the congress but especially in relation to sponsorship. The ACV has an excellent relationship with all of the pharmaceutical companies, built up over many years. We can only again thank our sponsors for their generous support. We have also initiated sponsored vet visits from overseas vets into our local vet practices as a way of experiencing how we operate in Australia. You may be interested in this host/exchange program and Rob as reported that 40+ vets from Australia have already registered their interest and we hope that you consider this opportunity to visit an Australian vet practice.

I hope that this gives you some idea of what this enthusiastic committee has put together for you for the Buiatrics congress next year.

Please visit the website WBC2014 and we look forward to seeing you in Cairns in July.

Kind Regards

Bob Rheinberger

Vice-President of the WAB and Chair of the local organising committee
